MINE BLAST DEATH TOLL 44

CLYMER, PA. SOFT COAL MINE SCENE OF MISHAP, 41 BODIES RECOVERED

Rescue Squads Drawn From Pittsburgh, Johnstown, and the Bethlehem Steel Mines, Etc.

WHen Explosion Came Yesterday, 60 Miners Were Ready to Enter the Passages to the Elevator Shaft, They Escaped Unharmed

Clymer, Pa., Aug. 27.—(UP)—The death toll resulting from a terrific explosion in Clymer Mine No. 1 of the Clearfield Bituminous Coal corporation mounted to 44 today.

Forty-one bodies had been recovered, while the mangled bodies of three other miners still lie in the wreckage within the mine workings.

Of the men first brought up from the pit, two died on the way to the hospital. Physicians believed that three of the four known survivors might not live.

The bodies of Peter Hankerson, Howard Thoburn, Steve Rastas and Andy Gal had been identified early today.

From the appearance of the recovered dead, relief workers believe that the coal dust in the mine had caught fire. So charred were bodies found that it was impossible to take finger prints.

In the oppressive heat of the mine, working in an atmosphere laden with noxious fumes, the rescue workers were constructing a hallway through the debris as they moved forward to explore the last galleries in search of bodies.

When the explosion came yesterday, sixty miners were ready to enter the passages leading to the elevator shaft. They escaped unharmed. For an hour after the explosion clouds of smoke came from the mine, driving back those who attempted to enter.

By nightfall, however, rescue work was well under way.

A similar explosion here in June, 1924, killed 37 persons.

Rescue squads were drawn from Pittsburgh, Johnstown and the Bethlehem steel mines, with a squad from the Pittsburgh station of the United States bureau of mines. The latter group was superintending the work, some aiding in the removal of bodies.

J. M. Olson, one of the four survivors gave a vivid account of his experiences.

"I was 4,000 feet from the place where the explosion took place," he said. "I was thrown to the ground by the force of the blast. When I got up I was dazed; for minutes, I suppose, I wandered around.

"When I became conscious of things I saw a cloud coming toward me."

"I led six other miners along the passage to a point beneath the air vent. I had to walk across the bodies of 20 workers before I could reach it.

"I counted at least eight other bodies lying in the doorway of a short hallway which crosses the center of the long passage.

"Several had been decapitated.

"Two of the 20 over which I stumbled had been torn in two as though ripped apart by strong horses pulling in opposite directions. Others were so mutilated I could not recognize them. I had no chance to determine how many of them there were as I was nearly suffocated.

"At the air vent we felt warm air coming down. My comrades thought it was the after damp. The six left me.

"I knew, however, that the air was being pumped into the mine, and I stuck to the air vent. Later, after an hour I climbed out."

The death toll was fixed at 44 in a statement issued by Coroner Fred St. Clair. Whether or not the death list might be increased further was not known.

St. Clair reported that 14 bodies still remained in the mine. Ten of these will be removed some time during the day and an effort will be made to recover the other four buried as they are under tons of debris which fell when the mine supports caved in.

It was definitely established that 10 miners escaped from the mine shortly after the explosion. These miners were working in a section remote from the seat of the explosion and managed to flee through an air shaft before the deadly gases began to permeate all the recesses of the mine.

In addition to the 10 who escaped four were saved by mine rescue crews and today were reported as resting easily in the Dixonville hospital. All are suffering broken bones and internal injuries.

Clymer, Pa., Aug. 27. — In less than four years more than 150 lives have been lost in three serious mine disasters in this vicinity.

On November 6, 1922, an explosion of accumulated gas, followed by one of coal dust resulted in the death of 78 miners at the Riley No. 1 mine near Spangler, 17 miles from here.

On January 26, 1923, thirty-seven lives were lost in a similar explosion at the Barnes and Tucker mine at Shanktown, five miles from here.

On August 26, 1926, an explosion in the Clymer No. 1 mine of the Clearfield Bituminous Coal Corporation resulted in the death of at least 44 miners.

CIRCUMSTANCES OF TRAGEDY HAVE NOT BEEN REVEALED

Morris, Minn., Aug. 27.—(UP)—Two boys were drowned here late Thursday in the Pomme De Terre river about a mile east of Morris. The bodies were recovered in five feet of water.

The victims were:

Norman Lee, 10, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Norrie Lee.

Inar Carlson, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Carlson, who came here a week ago from Eden, S D.

The circumstances of the tragedy are not known as the two companions of the victims disappeared after running to the home of Gilbert Lee, and telling him of what had happened.

Lee hurried to the river and recovered the bodies of the boys without difficulty.

Mute evidence that the Lee boy was drowned in trying to rescue the Carlson boy was found. Norman was undressed while his companion was clothed. Neither could swim a stroke, it was said.

Difficulty was encountered in identifying the Carlson boy. Other boys of the same age were called by Coroner J. A. Ringness and the Lee boy's identity was learned instantly. However, the Carlson boy being a stranger, it was some time before it was recalled that the Carlson and Noman boys had been seen together and the father of the former was summoned.

CRAZED MAN FIRES 50 SHOTS INTO CROWD

JOHN MAZZA, 45, SICILIAN LABORER, RUNS AMUCK IN CHICAGO

WOUNDS THREE AND NARROWLY MISSES SCORES OF OTHERS AT RAILWAY STATION

Chicago, Aug. 27.—(UP)—After he had fired 50 shots in a crowded railroad station, killing one man, wounding three and narrowly missing scores of others, John Mazza, 45, a crazed Sicilian laborer was shot and killed by a veteran of the world war.

Louis Kigazas, a waiter, was the man killed. Joseph Edwards, passenger agent of the Michigan Central railroad, was struck in the back by two bullets, and will probably die. W. K. Miller, a Pullman porter, also suffered gunshot wounds in the back and is expected to die. Zan Reeves, another porter, was wounded in the face but will recover, according to physicians.

The crazed man appeared in the crowded Central station just as two of the trains of the Illinois Central and the Big Four railroads were about to depart.

He was carrying a shot gun, a woman's handbag—which later was found to contain shells—and a bowie knife was hanging around his neck. Mazza made straight for Edwards and Patrolman Lynch, who were standing just one side of the main concourse.

He immediately opened fire on the two, striking Edwards. Lynch returned the fire and the crazed man ran to a station restaurant. In there he saw a number of Pullman porters and started shooting into the group. Kigazas, a waiter, was killed and two porters were injured.

The station by this time was a hubbub of excitement. Women were screaming and children were crying. Men were dashing around seeking weapons. Several women fainted.

Chales Danloff, barber and world war veteran, heard the turmoil and ran into the station carrying a pistol. As he ran in he faced Mazza. Before the crazed track worker could swing his shot gun into action Danloff fired once, the bullet striking Mazza between the eyes. He was killed instantly.

Many women who had been in the station were treated for nervous hysteria following the wild half hour of shooting.

SERVICE, PRIVATE AND QUIET FOR VALENTINO, SET FOR MONDAY

SOUGHT TO EXTEND DATE UNTIL BROTHER ARRIVES FROM ITALY

New York, Aug. 27.—(UP)—Rudolph Valentino's coffin has been closed, and it is planned that no one will see his body again until the funeral services.

The service, private and quiet in contrast to the turmoil of the past few days, is set for Monday, but George Ullman, manager of the actor, is seeking a health department permit to extend the burial time limit until after the arrival here of Valentino's brother, Albert Guglielmi, due Wednesday on the liner Homeric.

When the coffin was closed at midnight, Ullman said it would not be re-opened for any one but the brother.

Twenty-eight men and women from Valentino's home town of Castellane, Italy, were admitted to view the body before the coffin was closed. One woman fainted and several grew hysterical before the coffin.

Ullman said the burial place would depend on the wishes of Alberto Gugliemi, but expressed the belief that Gugliemi, who had spent some time in Hollywood, would approve the plan for burying the actor there.

Headed by Joseph M. Schenck, of the United Artists Corporation, under whose standard Valentino appeared, a committee has been formed here to solicit subscriptions—from five cents to one dollar—to erect a permanent memorial to Valentino.

COMMERCIAL FISHING RIGHTS IN THE STATE

ABANDONMENT OF PRESENT PROCEDURE IN SELLING SAME AT BIDDING

STATE MAY ADOPT PLAN OF SELECTING ONLY RESPONSIBLE FISHERMEN

St. Paul, Aug. 27.—(UP)—Abandonment of the present procedure in selling commercial fishing rights in Minnesota is being contemplated by state officials.

A formal recommendation that competitive bidding be done away with is expected to be submitted by Jay Gould, state game and fish commissioner, to Governor Theodore Christianson for the latter's approval and it is indicated that the governor will approve the action.

Instead of letting contracts for seining lakes to the highest bidder, the state would make an effort to select only responsible fishermen who would carry out the spirit of their contracts as well as the letter.

The state is awarding contracts for commercial fishing in an effort to rid lakes of carp, buffalo and other species of fish which drive out game fish.

However, the plan has not been successful in its purpose. A contract holder who begins seining a lake and finds that the fish are not as large or as easy to net as they might be may not clean out a lake, thus thwarting the purpose of the scheme.

Under the suggested procedure, the state would select responsible men to do the seining and take its share of the proceeds on a sliding scale which would vary with the size of the lake and the value of the fish.

The plan was considered yesterday at a conference attended by Governor Christianson, Commissioner Gould and representatives of sportsmen and commercial fishermen and met with favor.

Morgan City and the territory around it suffered the heaviest damage.

Twenty-eight men and women from Valentino's home town of Castellane, Italy, were admitted to view the body before the coffin was closed. One woman fainted and several grew hysterical before the coffin.

Ullman said the burial place would depend on the wishes of Alberto Guglielmi, but expressed the belief that Gugliemi, who had spent some time in Hollywood, would approve the plan for burying the actor there.

Headed by Joseph M. Schenck, of the United Artists Corporation, under whose standard Valentino appeared, a committee has been formed here to solicit subscriptions—from five cents to one dollar—to erect a permanent memorial to Valentino.

COMMERCIAL FISHING RIGHTS IN THE STATE

ABANDONMENT OF PRESENT PROCEDURE IN SELLING SAME AT BIDDING

STATE MAY ADOPT PLAN OF SELECTING ONLY RESPONSIBLE FISHERMEN

St. Paul, Aug. 27.—(UP)—Abandonment of the present procedure in selling commercial fishing rights in Minnesota is being contemplated by state officials.

A formal recommendation that competitive bidding be done away with is expected to be submitted by Jay Gould, state game and fish commissioner, to Governor Theodore Christianson for the latter's approval and it is indicated that the governor will approve the action.

Instead of letting contracts for seining lakes to the highest bidder, the state would make an effort to select only responsible fishermen who would carry out the spirit of their contracts as well as the letter.

The state is awarding contracts for commercial fishing in an effort to rid lakes of carp, buffalo and other species of fish which drive out game fish.

However, the plan has not been successful in its purpose. A contract holder who begins seining a lake and finds that the fish are not as large or as easy to net as they might be may not clean out a lake, thus thwarting the purpose of the scheme.

Under the suggested procedure, the state would select responsible men to do the seining and take its share of the proceeds on a sliding scale which would vary with the size of the lake and the value of the fish.

The plan was considered yesterday at a conference attended by Governor Christianson, Commissioner Gould and representatives of sportsmen and commercial fishermen and met with favor.

HEAVY TOLL OF LIVES AND PROPERTY LOSS

13 FISHERMEN MISSING FROM BARATARIA FISHING COLONY

PROPERTY DAMAGE NEAR NEW ORLEANS IS FULLY $4,000,000

New Orleans, La., Aug. 27.—(UP)—As communication was re-established today with communities isolated until this morning by the hurricane which struck the Louisiana Gulf coast Wednesday night, a much heavier toll of lives and property than had been expected was indicated.

Thirteen fishermen are missing from the Barataria fishing colony and searching parties have been unable to find any trace of the men or their boats. It is feared their craft may have gone down in the storm.

Property damage was estimated today at $4,000,000. Sixty per cent of standing crops was reported destroyed in the gale-swept area, which stretches inland almost 100 miles. Stockmen also suffered heavily when cattle were drowned or killed by falling trees.

Morgan City and the territory around it suffered the heaviest damage.

'ABRAHAM LINCOLN' FALLS OFF HORSE LIKE PRINCE OF WALES

Faribault, Minn., Aug. 28.—(UP)—Alfred Luecke, amateur actor who was to have taken part in the pageant "Abraham Lincoln," last night was in a hospital here today with internal injuries suffered when a horse he was riding balked and fell backwards with his rider.

Luecke was not seriously hurt, however, although he will be unable to take part in tonight's performance.

More than 3,000 persons attended the pageant last night. The spectacle will be given for the last time tonight. The rodeo held in connection with the Rice county fair will be given tonight, tomorrow night and Sunday.

'BOOTLEGGER PRINCE' AT OWATONNA

Owatonna, Minn., Aug. 27.—Guy Denny, known here as "the bootlegger prince," waived examination in municipal court here yesterday and was bound over to the district court on charges of violating the liquor law and escaping from an officer.

His bond was set at $2,000 and he was remanded to jail in default of bail which his attorney is making efforts to raise.

Denny served one term for bootlegging in the jail here and escaped from Deputy Sheriff F. L. Thamert July 9 after his arrest on a second charge. He was caught at Austin Wednesday.

'SWEET PAPA' LOVE NOTES CAUSES UPROAR

Sheboygan, Wis., Aug. 27.—(UP)—That the "sweet papa" love notes, which caused a sensation here last year in the Ableman-Holman alienation of affection suit will be aired in circuit court here, was indicated today in a letter received from Attorney T. L. Doyle, Fond du Lac, instructing the clerk of court to place the case on this year's calendar.

Miss Edith Ableman, Elgin, Ill., originally brought suit for $50,000 against Gus Holman, but later had the complaint amended to include conspiracy.

A jury returned a verdict for $15,000, but the state supreme court ruled against the verdict due to the conspiracy charges.

Announcing the New Chrysler '50'

Description of the new Chrysler "50" reveals a combination of special machine. This machine, incidentally, is so sensitive that a light tap on the heavy body of its case, which contains the compen- features, new to the field of low cost motor cars, which are calculated by the Chrysler Corporation to place it rapidly in the forefront among automobiles selling at its price.

They include unusual body roominess and comfort, remarkably high gasoline mileage and other economy advantages, unusually smooth engine power and enduring speed ability, easier handling and speed with comfort up to the car's maximum.

The L-head type engine is extremely smooth in operation, besides retaining all the characteristic traditional four cylinder advantages. Transmission of its power to the rear wheels with minimum loss has been accomplished by hanging the engine low in the frame to give straight-line drive to the driving mechanism.

Lubrication is exceptionally thorough. Reciprocating parts are actually flooded with oil at all speeds. Full force lubrication is provided to all crankshaft and connecting rod bearings from the pump. Spray from a small hole in each connecting rod bearing lubricates each cylinder wall, piston pin, camshaft bearing and entire valve supported on three bronze-backed, babbitt-lined main bearings. Crankshafts are made to balance perfectly on special ways provided for static balance operations, after which they are put in running or dynamic balance on suspended bearings, and a final balance made on a operating mechanism. All other reciprocating engine parts are lubricated by positive spray from the same source, or from the front crankshaft bearing.

The crankshaft is both statically and dynamically balanced and sating balance weights, will cause a considerable fluctuation on its indicator dial.

Cooling system is thermo-syphon. Radiator is the vertical tube and fin type with detachable shell and large frontal area to admit plenty of air. Fan is of the two-blade airplane propellor type, adjustable for wear of the belt, and designed to assist maximum cooling.

Clutch is of the single disc, dry plate type, with driven disc and asbestos composition facing riveted to it on each side. Its weight has been reduced to the minimum consistent with best practice by using a single thin plate of spring steel. It is unusually easy to operate. Like other rotating parts it is both statically and dynamically balanced. This balance of rotating parts is a standard Chrysler feature, and one not found in many other cars. It assists materially in promoting smoothness of general operation and insuring long wear.

Distributor is of the semi-automatic type.

Manifolding is of Chrysler design, perfectly proportioning the flow of mixture into each cylinder, and giving uniform discharge of exhaust gases. The "hot spot" forms a connection between the two manifolds and conducts heat from the exhaust to intake manifold, thus aiding in proper fuel vaporization, especially in cold weather.

The front axle combines exceptional strength with light weight and has adjustable roller wheel bearings. Rear axle has also been designed with a high factor of safety in view.

Brakes are external contracting. The bands are actuated by a double acting operating lever, which gradually wraps the bands about the drums, causing them to bear on the largest possible surface.

Front springs are 35½ inches long, rear 53½ inches. Both are semi-elliptic. Together they are 51 per cent of the wheelbase length.

The trees growing in Mongolia in the Cretaceous period, when the dinosaurs were laying their eggs in the sand at Shabarakh Usu, have a general resemblance to those whose fossils form the petrified forest of Arizona. Announcing the New Chrysler '50'

Description of the new Chrysler "50" reveals a combination of special machine. This machine, incidentally, is so sensitive that a light tap on the heavy body of its case, which contains the compen- features, new to the field of low cost motor cars, which are calculated by the Chrysler Corporation to place it rapidly in the forefront among automobiles selling at its price.

They include unusual body roominess and comfort, remarkably high gasoline mileage and other economy advantages, unusually smooth engine power and enduring speed ability, easier handling and speed with comfort up to the car's maximum.

The L-head type engine is extremely smooth in operation, besides retaining all the characteristic traditional four cylinder advantages. Transmission of its power to the rear wheels with minimum loss has been accomplished by hanging the engine low in the frame to give straight-line drive to the driving mechanism.

Lubrication is exceptionally thorough. Reciprocating parts are actually flooded with oil at all speeds. Full force lubrication is provided to all crankshaft and connecting rod bearings from the pump. Spray from a small hole in each connecting rod bearing lubricates each cylinder wall, piston pin, camshaft bearing and entire valve supported on three bronze-backed, babbitt-lined main bearings. Crankshafts are made to balance perfectly on special ways provided for static balance operations, after which they are put in running or dynamic balance on suspended bearings, and a final balance made on a operating mechanism. All other reciprocating engine parts are lubricated by positive spray from the same source, or from the front crankshaft bearing.

The crankshaft is both statically and dynamically balanced and sating balance weights, will cause a considerable fluctuation on its indicator dial.

Cooling system is thermo-syphon. Radiator is the vertical tube and fin type with detachable shell and large frontal area to admit plenty of air. Fan is of the two-blade airplane propellor type, adjustable for wear of the belt, and designed to assist maximum cooling.

Clutch is of the single disc, dry plate type, with driven disc and asbestos composition facing riveted to it on each side. Its weight has been reduced to the minimum consistent with best practice by using a single thin plate of spring steel. It is unusually easy to operate. Like other rotating parts it is both statically and dynamically balanced. This balance of rotating parts is a standard Chrysler feature, and one not found in many other cars. It assists materially in promoting smoothness of general operation and insuring long wear.

Distributor is of the semi-automatic type.

Manifolding is of Chrysler design, perfectly proportioning the flow of mixture into each cylinder, and giving uniform discharge of exhaust gases. The "hot spot" forms a connection between the two manifolds and conducts heat from the exhaust to intake manifold, thus aiding in proper fuel vaporization, especially in cold weather.

The front axle combines exceptional strength with light weight and has adjustable roller wheel bearings. Rear axle has also been designed with a high factor of safety in view.

Brakes are external contracting. The bands are actuated by a double acting operating lever, which gradually wraps the bands about the drums, causing them to bear on the largest possible surface.

Front springs are 35½ inches long, rear 53½ inches. Both are semi-elliptic. Together they are 84 per cent of the wheelbase length.

BRAINERD HOST TO 500 AT PICNIC

Maintenance of Way Employes of 3 Railways in Frolic Here

AT LUM PARK SEPT. 5

Speakers at Picnic to Include Pres. W. H. Gemmell, Mayor Little and Others

Brainerd will be host to over five hundred people when the Maintenance of Way Employees of the Northern Pacific, Minnesota and International and B. F. & I. F. railways and their families will hold a joint picnic Sunday, Sept. 5 at Lum Park.

The committee which consists of H. Dybvik, Otto Kukkola, and Oscar Velietz of Brainerd and Earle Dally of Pequot, Mr. Hanson and Mike Gordon of Merrifield has been very busy getting things lined up for a "humdinger" of a time and have rented the pavilion, which seats about a thousand people, for the day. There will be sports for the little folks and the bathing beach and popular roller coaster will be available to all.

Speakers at the picnic will include W. H. Gemmell, president of the M. & I. Brother Crook and Brother Miller of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employees. Mr. Crook is the grand vice president and Mr. Miller, of Seattle, is the general chairman of the system. Mayor F. E. Little and Carl Wright of Brainerd are being sought to make addresses and Brother Mike Jordan of McGregor who is a member of the Brainerd local and the assistant secretary-treasurer of the entire system will act as toastmaster and according to reports "he is the boy that can keep things moving."

Coffee, cream, sugar, and lemonade will be served free; all that is necessary is the lunch and cups.

Workmen have been enticingly summoned to the picnic with these words "Forget that bad joint, or bridge that won't stay in line, or the water pump that won't work unless you are there, and come to Brainerd, Sept. 5, and meet the fellow who works at the other end of the division. Two to one, he has just as big troubles as you have, and you will laugh with him about your troubles and go home thinking that he is a dandy guy because he works on the same railway that you do.

You can drive in, go right out to Lum Park; and you who come on the trains, go out on the North side of the depot and there will be some one there to take you out to the picnic grounds. Cars will all have signs on, so don't be afraid to ask for a ride. We will have dinner at 2 o'clock, after the train gets in from Duluth.

Further information can be secured from Helmer Dybvick, 1416 Pine street, or from Earle Dally, Pequot.

WHIPPET DOGS IN ACTION

Races Staged at Coming Minnesota State Fair and Northwest Dairy Show

World famous whippet dogs will be seen in action in the whippet races to be staged at the coming Minnesota State Fair and Northwest Dairy Exposition, Sept. 4 to 11, it was announced today.

White Foot, holder of the world's record of 11-1-5 seconds for 220 yards, will be one of the big field of canines to be seen in action. Word was received here today from Jilly Gilligan, of Boston, that he would start White Foot in the Hamline races. This famous canine made his 11-1-5 world record in the recent races staged in the New York Polo Grounds.

Man o' War, owned by Mae Bland, of Columbus, Ohio, is another top-notch whippet entered. Man o' War has carried Miss Bland's colors to victory in several big races this season.

Other stars of the whippet world coming are White Fox and Robbie Ann, owned by Nan Martin Pryor, of Memphis, who will bring a string of five or six dogs here; On Time, Daytona Beach sensation, owned by Lamar Funston, of Columbus; Picaroon, owned by Mickey Grant, of Boston, and War Horse, owned by George Robinson, of St. Louis.

Alfred Bland, of Columbus, one of the leading authorities on whippet racing in America, today was named to take charge of the State Fair racing. Several dog races will be staged each day on the track immediately in front of the grandstand. The races will be open to all dogs in the United States and Canada, and exceptionally keen competition is forecast.

Whippet racing has been a popular pastime in Europe for years. So popular has the sport grown in the East, where it was first introduced in this country, that special tracks have been constructed for canine racing.

Whippet racing will be only one of the many features on the State Fair sport program. Horse racing, auto racing, aviation, fireworks and big open air circus program will be presented daily.

Optimism in Sanatorium Care

A hopeful outlook in the treatment of tuberculosis is one of the most important factors in sanatorium work. None of us should feel that our case is hopeless because of marked involvement of lung area. As you have seen recently in this institution several very sick people have been turned out as arrested cases. These persons would have been considered by many clinicians as hopeless cases and they themselves had that impression, but patience, obedience and natural resistance won the fight.

If a person admitted to a sanatorium makes up his or her mind to fight to the last ditch and will listen to words of instruction and cheer that we attempt to give them and cooperate with us in our work to get well, the assurance of getting out in active life again is quite probable. Hurry is one of our great drawbacks in this work. "Haste makes waste" in taking the rest cure for tuberculosis as much as it does in any other important undertaking in life. No person that has been successful in life's undertakings has arrived, so to speak, in a day, week or year. It has taken years of painstaking effort and strict application to business, making themselves acquainted with all details of the work in hand. None of our great men became great in a day. Years of toil and many disappointments marked the lives of all that have left their names among the prominent and those that are considered so today.

This spirit applies too in taking treatment for tuberculosis. When you come into an institution for the care and treatment of tuberculosis, have only one object in view, to get well. Come with the cooperative spirit and with the determination to stay until those in charge tell you that you are ready to go home. All instructions, rules and regulations are for your good and on how well you observe them depends the arrest of your condition, your future happiness and the happiness of friends and family.

WE BANK ON TUNNEY

WE bank on Tunney in his coming fight with Jack Dempsey. We have seen both men in action and believe Tunney will win the fight.

Our old friend, Ed L. Shave, sports editor of the St. Paul Daily News, voices the belief that Tunney is a tough customer. In the coming fight, says Shave in the "Sport Trail," Dempsey is up against the best opponent he has been called upon to fight since he won the world's crown. That does not mean that I am picking Tunney to win, or to go the ten rounds, but I do believe that Dempsey will be in a more dangerous fight for him than any, except the Firpo fight, and there Dempsey would not have run into the trouble but for his own rank carelessness.

Tunney is a sharpshooter puncher, strong and rugged, possesses a keen eye, a fight heart, and is the type to bother Dempsey—a calm, steady, waiting battler. Dempsey is certain to open the fight with a characteristic Dempsey rush, but Tunney is one of the greatest counter punching heavies of recent years. Tunney can hit with either hand, and is a deadly body puncher.

The fight may be over quickly, it may go the limit, but there is due to be some sensational fighting while it lasts, and if some one gets knocked out it may not be Tunney.

Norman E. Brown is another sports writer who has his doubts about Dempsey. He says the Jack Dempsey who will step into the ring in defense of his title September 16 is seven years older, heavier and slower than the Dempsey who annihilated Jess Willard in the Toledo arena the summer of 1919. Today Dempsey has taken on flesh, his legs are heavier, his waist is thicker, his back, chest and shoulders carry more "meat." Tunney has youth, speed, a keen brain and courage.

LAND O' LAKES CREAMERIES IN BIG GAIN

THE Land O' Lakes Creameries, Inc., shows a large gain in its butter business for the first half year of 1926, as compared with the same period of last year.

The association this year sold 47,600,000 pounds of butter up to July 1, a gain of 4,000,000 pounds over the first six months of 1925. The total money value of this business was $20,200,000 as compared with $18,500,000 last year.

In addition to its butter business, the association's side lines, such as machinery and supplies, sweet cream and powdered buttermilk, added approximately another million and a half to the business for the first half of the year.

The local Land O' Lakes creamery also shows an expansion of business in keeping with the record made by the members of Minnesota's famous cooperative marketing association.

SOMETHING ABOUT GOLF

GOLF in pioneer days used to be considered a rich man's game and an old man's game, but nowadays it's everybody's game and the kids are coming to the front so rapidly that only professionals can hope to compete with the younger bunch.

We like to see flaming youth grab the prizes, but we do not want Youth to push Old Age clean off the tees.

It seems, too, that the caddies are graduating into phenomenal golfers. With that end in view, Clem Ryan is caddying for his kid brother Joe. "It's the only way I'll ever become a golfer," said Clem.

The golf bug is one of the most insidious germs ever encountered. When it gets you, you are gone. No treatment has been discovered to kill a golf bug.

A WOMAN'S INTUITION

WOMEN, as a rule, act "on hunches" as one may say in colloquial language. They rely on intuition to guide their conduct. A noteworthy example of this form of reasoning is revealed in the actions of Mrs. K. C. Wold.

Two women and four children in this St. Paul home of the physician had an uneasy feeling and rushed outdoors. A moment later accumulated gas from a leaking main exploded and wrecked the building so that it collapsed.

Mrs. Wold, her children, who were napping when their mother awakened them, and a maid were saved from death by Mrs. Wold's premonition of danger.

A man, getting a hunch," stops to figure out things and would have awakened some hours later with half the house hanging around his head.

WADSWORTH TO LEAVE MINNESOTA

ACCORDING to the Aitkin Independent Age P. R. Wadsworth of Cass Lake, unsuccessful opponent of Congressman Harold Knutson in the primary campaign, has announced, according to press reports, that he will leave late in August for his old home at Washington, Indiana. He plans to reside there permanently in the future.

Mr. Wadsworth served as county attorney and county superintendent of schools in his home county in Indiana. Later he entered the government service and for 24 years was on the interior department staff. He was afterward transferred into the Indian service and acted as Indian agent at White Earth, and then was appointed the first agent at the Chippewa consolidated Indian office at Cass Lake. He was retired from the government service a little less than a year ago when he reached the retirement age.

IN the old days it was a mark of superiority to have had an operation for appendicitis. At least it gave the recovered patient something to talk about. Nowadays it's not appendicitis, but the week end car accident that forms the engrossing subject of conversation.

THE other day Alvah Eastman, editor of the St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press, wrote such a nice story about the Duluth Herald, that the latter paper put the bouquet in star border on its front page. We all like to receive intelligent praise.

THE other day we got a most unusual United Press telegram. It concerned three men battling over a girl and in the end all three were killed. Not a word was said that the girl was a pretty girl. According to the story she was a girl of the hill country and not a line appeared as to her pulchritude.

Absence of Standard Recalled Heroic Deed

Although one of the officers of the corps of gentlemen-at-arms, the principal bodyguard of King George of England, always has borne the title of standard bearer, the corps was without a standard for centuries. Its colors were lost at the battle of Naseby, when the bodyguard of gentlemen-at-arms was destroyed to the last man while defending King Charles I from the Roundheads, holding the latter in check so as to permit the monarch and his son, afterward Charles II, to escape, recalls a writer in the New York Sun.

The standard vanished on that occasion and presumably was destroyed, for it never has been seen since. Neither Charles II nor his successors saw fit to present new colors to the corps and the very absence of the standard served to recall the heroism of the gentlemen-at-arms at Naseby until the four hundredth anniversary of the foundation of the corps in 1909, when King Edward presented his bodyguard with a new standard, a beautiful affair, embroidered by the wives and widows of former captains of the corps, all peeresses of the realm.

Monks' Orange Trees Began Big Industry

A few orange trees brought from Spain by Franciscan monks in 1769 and planted in mission grounds marked the beginning of a citrus industry in California which approaches a yearly turnover of $100,000,000,000.

The first orchard of any size was planted in 1804 or 1805 near the San Gabriel mission, ten miles from where Los Angeles now is. Four hundred seedlings covered six acres.

Early records say extensive orchards were developed and were exceedingly prolific, although John C. Fremont, who visited the Franciscan establishments after their secularization in 1834, said little remained of the orchards then.

The navel, California's winter orange, was planted extensively in the '70s on desert land which had been considered worthless. The navel orange of today is one of the big four of citrus fruits.

The valencia orange was brought from the Azores Islands in 1905. Lemons were imported from Australia and Sicily.

Last of Aztec Rulers

Montezuma was the last ruler of the Aztecs of Mexico, whose fame is due chiefly to his conflict with the Spanish conqueror, Hernando Cortez. Montezuma had been ruling 17 years in Mexico when the Spaniards arrived. His rule was so weak, however, that the invaders, a mere handful in numbers compared to the native population, soon established themselves securely. Montezuma was taken prisoner, and when the Aztecs could no longer tolerate the overbearing conduct of the Spanish they called on Montezuma's brother to lead a revolt. While this rebellion was in progress Montezuma died. Some say he was killed by the Spaniards, and the invaders themselves gave out the story that he was killed by a stone hurled by one of the revolters, while he was attempting to quiet them from the room of the palace.

Orchids With Your Bread

The mold you see on unhurried cheese and deferred bread—did you know it was a flower you look at? We scarcely can notice the mold plant until it blossoms. Under the microscope we then see as rich a display as a bouquet of orchids might furnish if they were done in black and white instead of color. The plant proper takes root and spreads a mass of fine filaments deep into its soil before it is ready to send flowering stalks toward the night and air. The seeds, invisible pollen, are shred dustlike into the atmosphere, so numberless that you cannot expose a disk of warm gelatin anywhere for one minute without a dozen spores taking root and sprouting on this superlilliputian garden plot.—Mentor.

The Explanation

"My dear," said Mr. Hemmandhaw, "I hope you are not planning to buy a lot of new furniture."

"I am not," replied Mrs. Hemmandhaw, "and I don't know what gives you the idea."

"This shopping list gives me the idea."

"What shopping list?"

"On this paper which I just picked up off the floor is written, 'wash stand, parlor chairs, dining-room table, writing desk, refrigerator, tabouret, piano stool, pedestal, step ladder, cedar chest, music cabinet and garbage can.'"

"Oh, that is just a record I was keeping of the things the baby has fallen from this week."

She Got His Number

Binks bought a new shirt, and on a slip pinned to the inside found the name and address of a girl, with the words, "Please write, and send photograph."

"Ah!" breathed Binks, "here is romance."

And forthwith he wrote the girl, and sent her a picture of himself. In due course of time an answer came, and with heart a-flutter Binks opened it. It was only a note.

"I was just curious to see," it read, "what kind of looking gink would wear such a cheap shirt."—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

5—The Camel's Hump, a two-crested butte near the town of Sentinel Butte, North Dakota. State Highway No. 3.

6—Pilot Knob, Missouri, a shaggy peak rising 1,600 feet above sea level, named by Mississippi River pilots when river travel was in its heyday from the fact that its sharp summit was a guide post on clear days. North of Ironton, State Highway No. 21.

7—Piasa Bluffs, Illinois, where Father Marquette in 1673 found the famous Piasa Bird and other weird monsters painted. Piasa Bird has been restored. Wonderfully picturesque district. North of Alton, State Highway No. 3.

8—Pine Lake, Iowa, a pleasure resort of surpassing beauty. Artificial lake fringed with white pine and filled with rainbow trout, bass, and other game fish. Indian mounds nearby. Near Eldora, State Highway No. 58.

9—Kitch-iti-kip-pi, the Big Spring, in the virgin forest near Manistique, Michigan. Sixty feet deep, four hundred feet across. The water is so clear you can watch a coin fall until it rests on the bottom, and so cold that no animal life can exist in it. About four miles off State Highway No. 12.

10—The Gunflint Trail, in Minnesota, a unique thirty-mile road built for the use of the Forestry Services and opening up the most beautiful part of the Superior National Forest, hitherto practically inaccessible. From Grand Marais on State Highway No. 1 into the wilderness.

NO TAX CUT FOR THE PRESENT, SAYS WINSTON

ACTING SECRETARY OF TREASURY MAKES STATEMENT

PUBLIC DEBT BEING RETIRED AS RAPIDLY AS POSSIBLE

Washington, Aug. 27.—(UP) — No tax reduction is in sight "for the present," Acting Secretary of the Treasury Gerrard Winston asserted today. He would not predict concerning future possibility of reductions.

Winston explained that it was the administration's policy to retire public debt as rapidly as possible now during the period of prosperity, adding that the debt is being retired faster now than the civil war debt was retired.

The interest on the public debt of about $20,000,000,000 now is about $850,000,000 a year, and it is more practical to reduce the debt and cut this interest in time of prosperity than to leave a heavier burden for the leaner years that follow, Winston said. The public debt total has been cut about $7,000,000,000 in the last eight years.

The acting secretary pointed out that the government will have to retire $2,500,000,000 in third liberty bonds in 1928, when the tremendous loan matures. This factor must be taken into consideration in any discussion of federal tax reduction, he said.

The $150,000,000 received annually as interest on foreign war debts under the law must be applied to retirement of the public debt, rather than to tax reduction, he said.

Winston said the treasury has just sold $50,000,000 in farm loan bonds, the proceeds of which was placed in the treasury, and will sell about $20,000,000 more. There will be no revenues from this source next year, however, he said.

Sinclair Lewis' "Mantrap" Unusual Love Drama With Great Cast

days. Ernest Torrence will be seen as the third party.

"Mantrap," which has been adapted from Sinclair Lewis' latest novel, is the first story in which the author has cast aside his penchant for satirizing the American small town, and turned to a love theme. "Mantrap" is an unusual love drama of the north woods and one that is decidedly far from the beaten track. Critics hail it as "the most unusual story ever written of the love of two men for a woman."

Miss Bow takes the part of a Minneapolis manicure girl in the picture.

W. C. Fields Starring Picture Riot From Start to Finish

If more funny gags exist than have been used in W. C. Fields' first Paramount comedy, "It's the Old Army Game," which is now showing at the Lyceum Theatre, your correspondent doesn't know of them. Field's premiere as a motion picture star, can only be characterized as—a walloping success.

"It's the Old Army Game" is the screamingly funny tale of Elmer Prettywillie (W. C. Fields), owner of a drug store in a small Florida town. This shop serves as a meeting place for the towns-people, and those who would buy stamps, magazines, books or use the telephone. In other words, everything is sold—but drugs.

Outsize in Bookworms

The accustomed serenity of the Durban public library was disturbed recently by the discovery of a giant python curled up in a corner below a case containing the Encyclopedia Britannica. How the reptile got in is a mystery. No harm was done, however, the intruder allowing itself to be transferred to a sack without protest. It was 10 feet long and 9 inches in girth.

Wonderful Accuracy

The bureau of standards says that in high-grade tool and gauge shops measurements are regularly made to ten-thousandths and hundred-thousandths of an inch. At the bureau of standards precision gauge blocks are tested to an accuracy of from one to five-millionths of an inch by light interference methods. The "ultramicrometer" is capable of detecting differences of one-billionth of an inch.

FASHIONS

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, Aug. 27. — (UP)— Women's ankles are growing larger from year to year and although we see numerous shapely legs upon our streets, a tape measure would prove that most of them are "over-ankled."

Even slender little sixteen-year-old misses will find that their ankles are not in proportion to the rest of the leg. The woman who prided herself upon her slender ankle a decade ago will find that her ankle has grown from half an inch to an inch in circumference. Why? Because we are wearing low shoes with high heels from morning until night. The ankle has no support and has a tendency to grow pudgy.

Years ago when women wore laced shoes, slender ankles were the invariable result. If we would again resort to wearing high shoes about the home we would find that the ankle would very soon resume its slenderness. Rubber ankle reducers also reduce the size of the ankle and these can be worn in bed while one sleeps. In some cases, the pudgy ankle can be reduced by massage. The easiest and simplest way to take off fat that has enlarged the ankle is to wear high shoes or ankle supports about the house. A high shoe acts upon the ankle just as a corset acts upon the body and we all know what the corsetless seasons have done to our waistlines.

Since short skirts seem to be here to stay—for some time at least—it is well to give a thought to the nether portions which we inflict upon the public. A certain stocking manufacturer, realizing that ankles are becoming enlarged, has introduced a shaded stocking which makes the leg look more shapely than it actually is. The shading is blended so gradually that it is not discernible. The darker portion of the stocking acts as a shadow over the fleshy portion of the ankle and leg. These shaded stockings are already being sold in some of the smart shops which are first to sponsor a new style. Needless to say, the sheerer the stocking the less noticeable is the shading. All popular neutral tones of grays and tans are those most popular.

A Wet Ordination

In 1785 the ordination of a minister in the town of Beverly, Mass., was not a dry affair, judging from these items in an old bill of expenses. "Thirty bowls of punch before going to church; ten bottles of wine, before attending meeting; forty-four bowls of punch, twenty-eight bottles of wine, eight bowls of brandy and some cherry rum, while at dinner." And six persons drank tea.

Outsize in Bookworms

The accustomed serenity of the Durban public library was disturbed recently by the discovery of a giant python curled up in a corner below a case containing the Encyclopedia Britannica. How the reptile got in is a mystery. No harm was done, however, the intruder allowing itself to be transferred to a sack without protest. It was 10 feet long and 9 inches in girth.

Wonderful Accuracy

The bureau of standards says that in high-grade tool and gauge shops measurements are regularly made to ten-thousandths and hundred-thousandths of an inch. At the bureau of standards precision gauge blocks are tested to an accuracy of from one to five-millionths of an inch by light interference methods. The "ultramicrometer" is capable of detecting differences of one-billionth of an inch.

FASHIONS

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, Aug. 27. — (UP)— Women's ankles are growing larger from year to year and although we see numerous shapely legs upon our streets, a tape measure would prove that most of them are "over-ankled."

Even slender little sixteen-year-old misses will find that their ankles are not in proportion to the rest of the leg. The woman who prided herself upon her slender ankle a decade ago will find that her ankle has grown from half an inch to an inch in circumference. Why? Because we are wearing low shoes with high heels from morning until night. The ankle has no support and has a tendency to grow pudgy.

Years ago when women wore laced shoes, slender ankles were the invariable result. If we would again resort to wearing high shoes about the home we would find that the ankle would very soon resume its slenderness. Rubber ankle reducers also reduce the size of the ankle and these can be worn in bed while one sleeps. In some cases, the pudgy ankle can be reduced by massage. The easiest and simplest way to take off fat that has enlarged the ankle is to wear high shoes or ankle supports about the house. A high shoe acts upon the ankle just as a corset acts upon the body and we all know what the corsetless seasons have done to our waistlines.

Since short skirts seem to be here to stay—for some time at least—it is well to give a thought to the nether portions which we inflict upon the public. A certain stocking manufacturer, realizing that ankles are becoming enlarged, has introduced a shaded stocking which makes the leg look more shapely than it actually is. The shading is blended so gradually that it is not discernible. The darker portion of the stocking acts as a shadow over the fleshy portion of the ankle and leg. These shaded stockings are already being sold in some of the smart shops which are first to sponsor a new style. Needless to say, the sheerer the stocking the less noticeable is the shading. All popular neutral tones of grays and tans are those most popular.

A Wet Ordination

In 1785 the ordination of a minister in the town of Beverly, Mass., was not a dry affair, judging from these items in an old bill of expenses. "Thirty bowls of punch before going to church; ten bottles of wine, before attending meeting; forty-four bowls of punch, twenty-eight bottles of wine, eight bowls of brandy and some cherry rum, while at dinner." And six persons drank tea.

NEW YORK WELCOMES GERTRUDE EDERLE

CONQUERING HEROINE CHEERED BY HOME CITY

ORGANIZATIONS FIGHT FOR POSITION IN LINE OF MARCH

MORE HONORS PAID HER THAN ANY VISITING ROYALTY OF EUROPE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Aug. 27.—All the honor that a great city could pay to visiting royalty or the return of a conquering hero was prepared today to receive Gertrude Ederle, 19-year-old channel swimming champion, on her return to her home town from Europe.

Kings, queens and princes have made the famous march under a shower of tape through the canyons in the financial district but Miss Ederle was picked as a subject for one of the greatest demonstrations cold hearted New York ever has given.

It was the first real chance that New York had in recent years to open its arms to a New York hero and the sky was announced as the limit.

State and city officials, business men and laborers and delegations from almost a hundred German and athletic organizations fought for places in the line of march that was arranged to escort the New York girl from the battery to city hall.

Mayor James J. Walker made all the appointments on a busy schedule dependent upon information from quarantine that would give the definite time of her arrival at the Battery.

Rather than force her to go through the tedium of a long wait at quarantine while the huge Berengaria was getting rid of her cargo of mail and to prevent her from the routine of the customs examination the government allowed her privilege of being taken off the ship and being brought to the battery on one of the city's boats.

Mayor Walker and prominent city officials were to meet her at city hall and tell her how much her home town and the whole country thought of her.

Officials of the Women's Swimming Association, the club which developed "Trudie" from a slight little miss into the world's greatest swimmer, planned to ask her private opinion about the way she was handled by Bill Burgess, the English trainer.

"Burgess got too much credit out of Trudie's feat," a prominent swimming man said. "We have heard that Burgess ordered her twice to get out of the water. For curiosity, at least, we would like to know all the details."

50,000 PEOPLE SHOUT WELCOME

New York, Aug. 27. — "Trudie" came home to Manhattan today and Manhattan went wild.

Even the enthusiasm of Dover, Boulogne and Stuttgard hadn't prepared Gertrude Ederle for the reception of he home town, and the girl who swam the English Channel was a confused, though joyously happy, heroine.

It was after 12:30 P. M. when Gertrude came ashore at the Battery, from the cutter Macom which took her off the liner Berengaia at quarantine.

Fifty thousand people were massed at Battery Park, to shout their welcomes to her.

The squads of police reserves, afoot and on horseback were powerless to control the crowds which swarmed lower Broadway, standing 12 deep on the sidewalks of that narrow canyon.

Through it all Gertrude smiled her appreciation. She cried from sheer nervousness and said "Is this for me? I can't believe it."

On the way into the battery from the Berengaria, "Trudie" received the greatest harbor reception ever given here.

As for the girl herself—she answered question upon question, posed for innumerable photographs, shook hands all around—with a real mannish grip—and was the most excited girl in New York.

Dudley Field Malone, counsel for Miss Ederle, acted as the master of ceremonies, and showed Miss Ederle a telegram from the secretary to President Coolidge which read: "The president wishes you to extend to Miss Ederle his congratulations upon her fine achievement and a hearty welcome home."

CITY LEAGUE STATISTICS GIVEN

TEX RICKARD LIKES TO GET INTO TROUBLE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 27.—No one but Tex Rickard would stand for all that pushing around and commission monkey business, one of his attorneys said, when he was battling to get a permit to match Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney for a heavyweight championship fight.

"Rickard stands for it," he said, "because he likes it. He probably would prefer to have a lot of trouble because he gets a kick out of doing something that someone else says he can't do.

"Rickard made a lot of money out of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight but he didn't make as much as he should have. He got his satisfaction by showing his critics that he wasn't the sap they charged him with being."

There was a lot of talk that all the controversy with the boxing commission and the license commission was a premediated ballyhoo but that is not the case.

The publicity resulting from all the arguments didn't hurt any, of course, but it was too late for Rickard to play around any circus advertising.

"I generally have about four months at least to arrange a big fight and it would take that long if I didn't have my own organization but I'd take a chance on putting over Dempsey and Tunney in two weeks' time. The distribution of the tickets is the biggest job.

"Rickard said he stood to lose $40,000 or $50,000 if he couldn't match Dempsey and Tunney. The loss represents time and labor expended in negotiating for the match and the cost of printing tickets and advertising.

Of course, Rickard is not in the business for his health but the sport he must get out of it was shown when he refused to ask the boxing commission for permission to charge more than $25 for ringside seats.

Rickard looked upon the Dempsey-Tunney fight as a particular pet. He likes to sell his ideas and he chuckled when he pointed out that he was proving that the public wanted to see Tunney fight Dempsey.

"There wasn't much fun promoting the Dempsey-Firpo fight," Rickard said. "It was such a natural that all we had to do was to sell the tickets. With this fight it would be different as we had to sell the public the idea that Tunney was a good fighter.

"Tunney is a good fighter," Rickard said. "I think he would make a much better fight against Dempsey than Wills would. He's younger and faster and he is full of ambition. Wills had his chances and passed them up. He could have made a million dollars in the last five years but I can't get him to do business for me.

"Tunney perhaps has made less money than any fighter of his prominence. He is in the unfortunate position where he can't get matches and Dempsey is the only opponent in sight for him.

"Dempsey is almost in the same position. There is only one match in sight for him that the public would support and that is Tunney. I know that a Dempsey-Wills match never can be promoted in this country. If I didn't have good reasons for knowing this I certainly would have made the match years ago. Dempsey always has been willing to accept terms but I don't believe it would do the game any good."

Rickard takes real pride in what he has done for boxing in New York and all over the country, indirectly. Boxing to him isn't only a business, it's a real pastime and amusement for him.

CITY SERIES TO START TUESDAY, Y. M. C. A. VS. N. E.

CHAMPIONSHIP OF CITY TO BE DETERMINED IN 3 GAME PLAY-OFF

WINNERS TO HOLD ALDERMAN-MAGHAN TROPHY CUP FOR ONE YEAR

The little "world series" for the championship of the city will start on Tuesday, Aug. 31, when the Y. M. C. A. winners of the first half of the schedule, will battle the N. E. team, second half champs, for the cup.

The winners of the series will gain possession of the Alderman-Maghan trophy cup, now held by the Y. M. C. A. for winning the championship last year. By winning the cup this year, the Y. M. C. A. will gain permanent possession of the cup, it having to be won twice in order to be retained.

The game will start at 5:15 o'clock, the early hour being set in order to permit a full game of seven innings. Andy Smraker, well-known for his umpiring, will call balls and strikes, with Buffalo umpiring bases.

The second game of the series will be played on Friday, Sept. 3, while the third, if three games are necessary, will be played the following week. Admission to these games will be twenty-five cents.

A number of prizes are being secured from local merchants, to be offered to players in the series, such as for the first extra base hit, the most runs made during the series, the most hits, the most sacrifices, greatest number of total bases, and other things. Announcement of these prizs will be made later.

Johnston Defaults Because of Illness

Newport, R. I.—William Johnston defaulted in the casino singles yesterday due to illness. He will remain in the doubles however. William Tilden, Manuel Alonzo and Brian Norton gained the semi-final round. A. H. Chapin, Jr., advanced through Johnston's default.

DARKNESS HALTS PLAY OF 34 AT INDIANAPOLIS

MEDAL PLAY OF WESTERN GOLF TOURNAMENT RESUMED

GENE SARAZEN ATTRACTS LARGE GALLERY ON STARTING TODAY

By BERT M. DEMBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 27.—Thirty-four golfers, halted last night by darkness from completing their morning round of medal play in the western open golf tournament at the Highland club here, again took to the fairways early today to wind up the first qualifying round.

Included in the list of those who did not finish were Johnny Farrell, New York and Rudy Knepper, Chicago, two players highly thought of by tourney followers here.

Gene Sarazen, tiny black haired winner of the 1922 open championship at Skokie who was low in yesterday's play with a 69 attracted the largest gallery as he made ready to start on his second round today.

P. O. Hart, Marietta, Ohio, who took a 70, for second low medal score on the initial day's play, Francis Gallett, of the Blue Mound club, Milwaukee, and Laurie Ayton, Evanston, who were next with 71's, and Jock Hutchison, Chicago, who shot 73 were others who took out larger crowds in their wake than they did on the opening day.

Walter Hagen, who scored a 75 along with Harry Cooper of Kansas City who took a 74 were other favorites beside the leaders who were being watched closely in today's play. McDonald Smith, New York defending champion, with a 76, was also eyed.

Last night's play was completed in weird surroundings. Joe Turnesa New York, Chick Evans, Chicago, and Al Watrous, Grand Rapids, Mich., putted on the last hole by match light. They had been informed that they could finish this morning, but elected to keep on going in the dark. Turnesa and Evans got 75 each, but Watrous scored a 79.

N. P. TEAM IN RETURN GAME WITH ELY NINE

WEIGLE TO PITCH FOR BRAINERD IN TRY FOR FIRST VICTORY

STRONG LINE-UP OUT TO WIPE OFF DEFEAT OF FEW WEEKS AGO

The Brainerd N. P. team will journey to Ely for a game on Sunday, in their second invasion of the north city, having been defeated there three weeks ago. The locals are out to wipe off the slate the memory of that game, when the defense blew up, allowing Ely to run wild on the bags.

Weigle, former Kansas City All-Nations hurler, will be on the mound for the Brainerd nine, and will work for his first victory in a Brainerd uniform. He had hard luck at Fargo last week, losing a game through misplays on the part of his teammates. Weigle is a good hurler, and with proper support is sure to turn in a fine exhibition of baseball.

The locals have had a week's layoff, and are in the pink of condition for the game. The men forming the line-up are as follows: Norman and Schwindeman, catchers, Dutch Weigle, pitcher; Hanson, first base; Peterson, second base; Uddenberg, short stop; Ware, third base; Sheflo, left field; Nutting, center field; Kaufman or Swanson, right field.

He made at least one safe hit in every game played during the half. Uddenberg, his teammate, is in second place, with 533.

The champions of the half, N. E., lead the league in team batting and fielding by a fraction of a point in each case. Their batting average is a trifle over .271, while the B. A. C. team is short of .271 by just a hair. In fielding, N. E. leads the Seals by one-tenth of a point.

Yesterday's Hero—Outfielder Waner of the Pittsburgh Pirates who got six hits—a triple, two doubles and three singles—to help the Pirates beat the Giants 13 to 7, and regain first place in the National league. All told the Pittsburghers got 21 hits.

The St. Louis Cardinals dropped into a tie for second place in the National league by losing to Philadelphia 3 to 2.

Cincinnati beat Brooklyn 3 to 1, to share the second rung of the ladder with the Cardinals.

The Chicago Cubs made it five straight victories by conquering the Boston Braves, 3 to 1.

When they were unable to hit effectively the Chicago White Sox dropped both games of a doubleheader to the Washington Senators 9 to 3 and 1 to 0.

Philadelphia's Athletics took a doubleheader from the St. Louis Browns, 8 to 6 and 4 to 3. The second game went 12 innings.

Louisville gained a full game on the leading Brewers in the American association as the result of the victory over the Millers, while the Brewers were losing to the Hens.

Casey Stengel's aggregation took the lead at the start and while the Brewers could not get started held it throughout, winning 7 to 4. The Brewers started a 9th inning rally by filling the bases and with only one out, Brief was up. The Brewer slugger couldn't get the ball out of the infield and hit into a double play.

Nick Cullop on the mound for the Colonels was in great form and held the Millers to seven scattered hits, the Colonels winning 8 to 1.

Pounding out 15 hits off two pitchers the Saints downed the Indians 7 to 4.

No other games were scheduled.

Even the enthusiasm of Dover, Boulogne and Stuttgard hadn't prepared Gertrude Ederle for the reception of he home town, and the girl who swam the English Channel was a confused, though joyously happy, heroine.

It was after 12:30 P. M. when Gertrude came ashore at the Battery, from the cutter Macom which took her off the liner Berengaia at quarantine.

Fifty thousand people were massed at Battery Park, to shout their welcomes to her.

The squads of police reserves, afoot and on horseback were powerless to control the crowds which swarmed lower Broadway, standing 12 deep on the sidewalks of that narrow canyon.

Through it all Gertrude smiled her appreciation. She cried from sheer nervousness and said "Is this for me? I can't believe it."

On the way into the battery from the Berengaria, "Trudie" received the greatest harbor reception ever given here.

As for the girl herself—she answered question upon question, posed for innumerable photographs, shook hands all around—with a real mannish grip—and was the most excited girl in New York.

Dudley Field Malone, counsel for Miss Ederle, acted as the master of ceremonies, and showed Miss Ederle a telegram from the secretary to President Coolidge which read: "The president wishes you to extend to Miss Ederle his congratulations upon her fine achievement and a hearty welcome home."

TEX RICKARD LIKES TO GET INTO TROUBLE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 27.—No one but Tex Rickard would stand for all that pushing around and commission monkey business, one of his attorneys said, when he was battling to get a permit to match Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney for a heavyweight championship fight.

"Rickard stands for it," he said, "because he likes it. He probably would prefer to have a lot of trouble because he gets a kick out of doing something that someone else says he can't do.

"Rickard made a lot of money out of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight but he didn't make as much as he should have. He got his satisfaction by showing his critics that he wasn't the sap they charged him with being."

There was a lot of talk that all the controversy with the boxing commission and the license commission was a premediated ballyhoo but that is not the case.

The publicity resulting from all the arguments didn't hurt any, of course, but it was too late for Rickard to play around any circus advertising.

"I generally have about four months at least to arrange a big fight and it would take that long if I didn't have my own organization but I'd take a chance on putting over Dempsey and Tunney in two weeks' time. The distribution of the tickets is the biggest job.

"Rickard said he stood to lose $40,000 or $50,000 if he couldn't match Dempsey and Tunney. The loss represents time and labor expended in negotiating for the match and the cost of printing tickets and advertising.

Of course, Rickard is not in the business for his health but the sport he must get out of it was shown when he refused to ask the boxing commission for permission to charge more than $25 for ringside seats.

Rickard looked upon the Dempsey-Tunney fight as a particular pet. He likes to sell his ideas and he chuckled when he pointed out that he was proving that the public wanted to see Tunney fight Dempsey.

"There wasn't much fun promoting the Dempsey-Firpo fight," Rickard said. "It was such a natural that all we had to do was to sell the tickets. With this fight it would be different as we had to sell the public the idea that Tunney was a good fighter.

"Tunney is a good fighter," Rickard said. "I think he would make a much better fight against Dempsey than Wills would. He's younger and faster and he is full of ambition. Wills had his chances and passed them up. He could have made a million dollars in the last five years but I can't get him to do business for me.

"Tunney perhaps has made less money than any fighter of his prominence. He is in the unfortunate position where he can't get matches and Dempsey is the only opponent in sight for him.

"Dempsey is almost in the same position. There is only one match in sight for him that the public would support and that is Tunney. I know that a Dempsey-Wills match never can be promoted in this country. If I didn't have good reasons for knowing this I certainly would have made the match years ago. Dempsey always has been willing to accept terms but I don't believe it would do the game any good."

Rickard takes real pride in what he has done for boxing in New York and all over the country, indirectly. Boxing to him isn't only a business, it's a real pastime and amusement for him.

CITY SERIES TO START TUESDAY, Y. M. C. A. VS. N. E.

CHAMPIONSHIP OF CITY TO BE DETERMINED IN 3 GAME PLAY-OFF

WINNERS TO HOLD ALDERMAN-MAGHAN TROPHY CUP FOR ONE YEAR

The little "world series" for the championship of the city will start on Tuesday, Aug. 31, when the Y. M. C. A. winners of the first half of the schedule, will battle the N. E. team, second half champs, for the cup.

The winners of the series will gain possession of the Alderman-Maghan trophy cup, now held by the Y. M. C. A. for winning the championship last year. By winning the cup this year, the Y. M. C. A. will gain permanent possession of the cup, it having to be won twice in order to be retained.

The game will start at 5:15 o'clock, the early hour being set in order to permit a full game of seven innings. Andy Smraker, well-known for his umpiring, will call balls and strikes, with Buffalo umpiring bases.

The second game of the series will be played on Friday, Sept. 3, while the third, if three games are necessary, will be played the following week. Admission to these games will be twenty-five cents.

A number of prizes are being secured from local merchants, to be offered to players in the series, such as for the first extra base hit, the most runs made during the series, the most hits, the most sacrifices, greatest number of total bases, and other things. Announcement of these prizs will be made later.

Johnston Defaults Because of Illness

Newport, R. I.—William Johnston defaulted in the casino singles yesterday due to illness. He will remain in the doubles however. William Tilden, Manuel Alonzo and Brian Norton gained the semi-final round. A. H. Chapin, Jr., advanced through Johnston's default.

Enjoyment in Old Age

DARKNESS HALTS PLAY OF 34 AT INDIANAPOLIS

MEDAL PLAY OF WESTERN GOLF TOURNAMENT RESUMED

GENE SARAZEN ATTRACTS LARGE GALLERY ON STARTING TODAY

By BERT M. DEMBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 27.—Thirty-four golfers, halted last night by darkness from completing their morning round of medal play in the western open golf tournament at the Highland club here, again took to the fairways early today to wind up the first qualifying round.

Included in the list of those who did not finish were Johnny Farrell, New York and Rudy Knepper, Chicago, two players highly thought of by tourney followers here.

Gene Sarazen, tiny black haired winner of the 1922 open championship at Skokie who was low in yesterday's play with a 69 attracted the largest gallery as he made ready to start on his second round today.

P. O. Hart, Marietta, Ohio, who took a 70, for second low medal score on the initial day's play, Francis Gallett, of the Blue Mound club, Milwaukee, and Laurie Ayton, Evanston, who were next with 71's, and Jock Hutchison, Chicago, who shot 73 were others who took out larger crowds in their wake than they did on the opening day.

Walter Hagen, who scored a 75 along with Harry Cooper of Kansas City who took a 74 were other favorites beside the leaders who were being watched closely in today's play. McDonald Smith, New York defending champion, with a 76, was also eyed.

Last night's play was completed in weird surroundings. Joe Turnesa New York, Chick Evans, Chicago, and Al Watrous, Grand Rapids, Mich., putted on the last hole by match light. They had been informed that they could finish this morning, but elected to keep on going in the dark. Turnesa and Evans got 75 each, but Watrous scored a 79.

N. P. TEAM IN RETURN GAME WITH ELY NINE

WEIGLE TO PITCH FOR BRAINERD IN TRY FOR FIRST VICTORY

STRONG LINE-UP OUT TO WIPE OFF DEFEAT OF FEW WEEKS AGO

The Brainerd N. P. team will journey to Ely for a game on Sunday, in their second invasion of the north city, having been defeated there three weeks ago. The locals are out to wipe off the slate the memory of that game, when the defense blew up, allowing Ely to run wild on the bags.

Weigle, former Kansas City All-Nations hurler, will be on the mound for the Brainerd nine, and will work for his first victory in a Brainerd uniform. He had hard luck at Fargo last week, losing a game through misplays on the part of his teammates. Weigle is a good hurler, and with proper support is sure to turn in a fine exhibition of baseball.

The locals have had a week's layoff, and are in the pink of condition for the game. The men forming the line-up are as follows: Norman and Schwindeman, catchers, Dutch Weigle, pitcher; Hanson, first base; Peterson, second base; Uddenberg, short stop; Ware, third base; Sheflo, left field; Nutting, center field; Kaufman or Swanson, right field.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's Hero—Outfielder Waner of the Pittsburgh Pirates who got six hits—a triple, two doubles and three singles—to help the Pirates beat the Giants 13 to 7, and regain first place in the National league. All told the Pittsburghers got 21 hits.

The St. Louis Cardinals dropped into a tie for second place in the National league by losing to Philadelphia 3 to 2.

Cincinnati beat Brooklyn 3 to 1, to share the second rung of the ladder with the Cardinals.

The Chicago Cubs made it five straight victories by conquering the Boston Braves, 3 to 1.

When they were unable to hit effectively the Chicago White Sox dropped both games of a doubleheader to the Washington Senators 9 to 3 and 1 to 0.

Philadelphia's Athletics took a doubleheader from the St. Louis Browns, 8 to 6 and 4 to 3. The second game went 12 innings.

Louisville gained a full game on the leading Brewers in the American association as the result of the victory over the Millers, while the Brewers were losing to the Hens.

Casey Stengel's aggregation took the lead at the start and while the Brewers could not get started held it throughout, winning 7 to 4. The Brewers started a 9th inning rally by filling the bases and with only one out, Brief was up. The Brewer slugger couldn't get the ball out of the infield and hit into a double play.

Nick Cullop on the mound for the Colonels was in great form and held the Millers to seven scattered hits, the Colonels winning 8 to 1.

Pounding out 15 hits off two pitchers the Saints downed the Indians 7 to 4.

No other games were scheduled.

THREE INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Injured Are Art Ludwig, Jack O'Neil, Lawrence Stevens: Two Taken to Hospital

TWO CARS DEMOLISHED

Car Driven by O'Neil Struck Ludwig's Car Headon on Oak Street This Morning

Three persons injured and two cars almost totally wrecked is the sum up this morning of the serious automobile accident that took place this morning at about 1 o'clock six miles east of Brainerd on the Oak street road.

The injured are Jack O'Neil, and Lawrence Stevens who were taken to the St. Joseph's hospital suffering from severe cuts and bruises who today were allowed to go to their homes, and Art Ludwig who is more seriously injured at his home.

The headon crash that demolished the two cars, threw O'Neil through the windshield of the Chevrolet roadster car he was driving and Stevens through the rear of the car. Art Ludwig was entrapped in his Hupmobile sedan, miracuously escaping death.

Details of the accident as told this morning revealed that the Chevrolet car was travelling towards Brainerd and that Mr. Ludwig was driving out of Brainerd on his way to Red Wing. Noticing the car swerving on the road coming towards him, Mr. Ludwig stated he pulled his car to a stop to the side of the road and turned on his dim lights, and left on his emergency brake. The headon crash followed.

The cars were taken to the Franson Motor Co., and the injured rushed back to the city for treatment. Mr. Ludwig is reported to have two ribs cracked and an injured arm.

Family of Seven to Purchase Farm There; One Member Has Asthma

Three automobiles loaded with household goods which included beds, matresses, small stoves, trunks, furniture, today were being driven on the way to Maintoba.

Besides the belongings, the cars carried members of a family of seven from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, who hope to make Manitoba their home if they can find a suitable farm there to live on. The party includes Mr. and Mrs. George Louks and family.

"We are not going to Canada because conditions in the Uinted States are not good. There is plenty of work in Philadelphia, in fact the city is enjoying one of the best years of prosperity, all the factories are running full force, but we are moving to Canada in hope that one of the members of the family who is suffering with asthma may find relief. We hope to find a nice farm near Winnipeg which we can purchase and live on" said Mr. Louks.

The party passed through Brainerd this morning. So far they have had no trouble with their three automobiles.

STATISTICS SHOW MORE MARRIAGES

Also More Divorces in County in 1925 Than in 1924, Report Shows

SIX MORE DIVORCES

Increase of 19 Marriages; Also Increase in Marriages and Divorces in State

Statistics compiled by the Department of Commerce at Washington on marriages and divorces for 1924 and 1925 for all counties in Minnesota and announced by the County Clerk's office show an increase of 19 marriages and six divorces in the county of Crow Wing in 1925 in comparison to that of 1924.

The number of marriages recorded in Crow Wing in 1925 was 194 in comparison to 175 in 1924. Thirty divorces were granted in the county last year while in 1924 there were 24 divorces.

In a general story the United Press gives a state review. There was a decrease in divorces in Minnesota of 4.6 percent from 1924 to 1925, according to an annuoncement from Washington.

The department of commerce issued a statement showing that there had been 2,673 divorces granted in Minnesota in 1925, compared with 2,803 in 1924, a decrease of 130.

The number of marriages performed, on the other hand, showed an increase of 1.9 percent, from 23,204 in 1924 to 23,654 in 1925.

The state's population, it is estimated by the department of commerce, increased 1.5 percent during the last year, the estimate for 1924 having been 2,571,737, while that for 1925 is 2,610,705.

The figures on marriages and divorces are based on returns made by the clerk of the district court in each of the state's counties, the statements says, and are to be regarded as preliminary and subject to change.

Isanti county was the only one of the state's 87 counties in which no divorce was granted in 1924, while last year there were four with no divorces granted. These were Chisago, Cook, Grant and Sherburne.

Hennepin, the most populous county, naturally leads in both marriages and divorces, the figures being: marriages, 5,199 in 1924, 5,108 in 1925; divorces, 1,108 in 1924, 1,085 in 1925.

THREE INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Injured Are Art Ludwig, Jack O'Neil, Lawrence Stevens: Two Taken to Hospital

TWO CARS DEMOLISHED

Car Driven by O'Neil Struck Ludwig's Car Headon on Oak Street This Morning

Three persons injured and two cars almost totally wrecked is the sum up this morning of the serious automobile accident that took place this morning at about 1 o'clock six miles east of Brainerd on the Oak street road.

The injured are Jack O'Neil, and Lawrence Stevens who were taken to the St. Joseph's hospital suffering from severe cuts and bruises who today were allowed to go to their homes, and Art Ludwig who is more seriously injured at his home.

The headon crash that demolished the two cars, threw O'Neil through the windshield of the Chevrolet roadster car he was driving and Stevens through the rear of the car. Art Ludwig was entrapped in his Hupmobile sedan, miracuously escaping death.

Details of the accident as told this morning revealed that the Chevrolet car was travelling towards Brainerd and that Mr. Ludwig was driving out of Brainerd on his way to Red Wing. Noticing the car swerving on the road coming towards him, Mr. Ludwig stated he pulled his car to a stop to the side of the road and turned on his dim lights, and left on his emergency brake. The headon crash followed.

The cars were taken to the Franson Motor Co., and the injured rushed back to the city for treatment. Mr. Ludwig is reported to have two ribs cracked and an injured arm.

"PHILLY" FAMILY MOVES TO CANADA

On Their Way to Manitoba in Three Cars Loaded With Household Goods

PASSED THROUGH CITY

Family of Seven to Purchase Farm There; One Member Has Asthma

Three automobiles loaded with household goods which included beds, matresses, small stoves, trunks, furniture, today were being driven on the way to Maintoba.

"We are not going to Canada because conditions in the Uinted States are not good. There is plenty of work in Philadelphia, in fact the city is enjoying one of the best years of prosperity, all the factories are running full force, but we are moving to Canada in hope that one of the members of the family who is suffering with asthma may find relief. STATISTICS SHOW MORE MARRIAGES

Also More Divorces in County in 1925 Than in 1924, Report Shows

SIX MORE DIVORCES

Increase of 19 Marriages; Also Increase in Marriages and Divorces in State

Statistics compiled by the Department of Commerce at Washington on marriages and divorces for 1924 and 1925 for all counties in Minnesota and announced by the County Clerk's office show an increase of 19 marriages and six divorces in the county of Crow Wing in 1925 in comparison to that of 1924.

The number of marriages recorded in Crow Wing in 1925 was 194 in comparison to 175 in 1924. Thirty divorces were granted in the county last year while in 1924 there were 24 divorces.

In a general story the United Press gives a state review. There was a decrease in divorces in Minnesota of 4.6 percent from 1924 to 1925, according to an annuoncement from Washington.

The department of commerce issued a statement showing that there had been 2,673 divorces granted in Minnesota in 1925, compared with 2,803 in 1924, a decrease of 130.

The number of marriages performed, on the other hand, showed an increase of 1.9 percent, from 23,204 in 1924 to 23,654 in 1925.

The state's population, it is estimated by the department of commerce, increased 1.5 percent during the last year, the estimate for 1924 having been 2,571,737, while that for 1925 is 2,610,705.

The figures on marriages and divorces are based on returns made by the clerk of the district court in each of the state's counties, the statements says, and are to be regarded as preliminary and subject to change.

Isanti county was the only one of the state's 87 counties in which no divorce was granted in 1924, while last year there were four with no divorces granted. These were Chisago, Cook, Grant and Sherburne.

Hennepin, the most populous county, naturally leads in both marriages and divorces, the figures being: marriages, 5,199 in 1924, 5,108 in 1925; divorces, 1,108 in 1924, 1,085 in 1925.

HALL-MILLS CASE BEFORE GRAND JURY

EXPECTED TO BE HEARD IN 3 WEEKS, SAYS SPECIAL PROSECUTOR

IF CASE DEVELOPS MORE RAPIDLY, MAY ASK FOR JURY BEFORE SEPT. 21

Somerville, N. J., Aug. 27.—(UP)—The Hall-Mills case will go before a grand jury in three weeks. Alexander Simpson, special prosecutor, said today he is confident his evidence will warrant Willie Stevens, her brother, and her cousin, Henry De La Bruyere Carpender, the Wall Street broker, for the murder of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills.

Simpson said he probably would present the case to the regular session of the Somerset county grand jury on Sept. 21. He added that if the case develops more rapidly he might ask for a special grand jury session before Sept. 21.

Simpson indicated that once the indictment is returned he will move for a speedy trial and hopes for a definite end of the case, which has dragged for four years, early in the fall.

Carpender and Stevens remained in the county jail today where they will be kept until the grand jury acts. Mrs. Hall was still at her home, where she has stayed since she was admitted to $15,000 bail. Simpson indicated that no effort will be made to take her into custody again before the jury meets.

FADS OF THE FAMOUS

ARISTIDE BRIAND

Aristide Briand, French minister of foreign affairs, is a perpetual cigarette smoker and a lover of country amusements. He always smokes the cheapest brand of French cigarettes.

Briand owns a big estate in Normandy, where he spends every weekend. During the fishing season he never misses an opportunity to escape from his government duties and the report is current that between bites he prepares his public speeches, which he never writes, contenting himself with a few scribled notes or signs decipherable only by himself. Briand dislikes to change clothes, his biggest punishment is when for official luncheons or banquets, he has to dress up. He is really happy only when he has no such worries and can walk in his farmyard with a pair of wooden shoes.

CHARGE FATHER WITH KIDNAPING OWN DAUGHTER

Owatonna, Minn., Aug. 27.—(UP)—Kidnaping charges have been made against John Lang, of Minneapolis, who is in jail here today accused of having abducted his daughter, Bernice, aged 9 years, a ward of the state board of control in the state school for dependent children here.

Lang was arrested yesterday at Buffalo Lake, Minn., and brought here after having been sought since his daughter disappeared from the state school on May 16.

The daughter has been returned to the school.

Fern's Good Qualities

"For pure leaves," said Thoreau, "did nature make the fern." No doubt these delicate pieces of "nature's lace work" are prized principally for their beauty and graceful foliage, yet the plant has played an important role on the stage of economic progress throughout the past, and has also long been valued for its medicinal properties.

STOCKS GIVE GOOD ACCOUNT OF THEMSELVES

New York, Aug. 27.—(UP)—Wall street appeared resigned to the view that the market must adjust itself to somewhat firmer money rates with the approach of fall business expansion and stocks gave a good account of themselves in the face of a five per cent call rate throughout the session. Moreover, sentiment regarding the money situation was strengthened by the constructive showing of the local federal reserve bank's weekly statement.

It was found difficult therefore to create any real concern over the possibilities of any marked credit stringency at this center and bearish interests who had been trying to force liquidation of stocks on that basis were forced to cover their short contracts in a competitive market. As a result the list maintained a fairly confident tone all day. New highs were reported on the rallies by Steel, General Motors and other industrials.

"YES SIR, THIS MEDICINE, KARNAK, IS REMARKABLE"

"Why, If A Man Had Told Me 'Til He was Black In The Face That It Would Relieve My Troubles Like It Has, I Couldn't Have Believed It," Says Wersal.

"You can just tell the world for me that they don't even begin to claim enough for this Karnak—why, if a man had stood up and told me until he was black in the face that Karnak would end all my troubles like it has, I couldn't have believed it—I tell you this medicine is remarkable."

That's the way Leo Wersal, of 307 6th Ave., N. E. Minneapolis, talks about the great health builder that has put him in such splendid condition.

"I want to tell you I went through some suffering the past five years," says Mr. Wersal. "My appetite was gone, I had to force myself to eat, and every bite of food caused me so much agony I just dreaded to see meal time come. My stomach would just cramp like a vise, I'd bloat up with gas, and just suffered misery.

"My liver was sluggish, I had to be always taking laxatives for constipation, and my nerves wouldn't let me get any restful sleep. I had dizzy headaches and was so weak and sluggish it was all I could do to pull through a day's work.

"Well, sir, I don't know how it did it, but two bottles of Karnak has just made a clean sweep of my troubles. They just seemed to leave me overnight. I never had a better appetite, can eat anything, and my stomach is as good as new. I've already gained seven pounds, sleep like a top at night, and feel fine and fit all the time. Believe me, Karnak is a world beater."

Karnak is sold in Brainerd by all good drug stores, and by leading druggists in every town. —Advt.

HALL-MILLS CASE BEFORE GRAND JURY

EXPECTED TO BE HEARD IN 3 WEEKS, SAYS SPECIAL PROSECUTOR

IF CASE DEVELOPS MORE RAPIDLY, MAY ASK FOR JURY BEFORE SEPT. 21

Somerville, N. J., Aug. 27.—(UP)—The Hall-Mills case will go before a grand jury in three weeks. Alexander Simpson, special prosecutor, said today he is confident his evidence will warrant Willie Stevens, her brother, and her cousin, Henry De La Bruyere Carpender, the Wall Street broker, for the murder of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills.

Simpson said he probably would present the case to the regular session of the Somerset county grand jury on Sept. 21. He added that if the case develops more rapidly he might ask for a special grand jury session before Sept. 21.

Simpson indicated that once the indictment is returned he will move for a speedy trial and hopes for a definite end of the case, which has dragged for four years, early in the fall.

Carpender and Stevens remained in the county jail today where they will be kept until the grand jury acts. Mrs. Hall was still at her home, where she has stayed since she was admitted to $15,000 bail. Simpson indicated that no effort will be made to take her into custody again before the jury meets.

ALL KINDS OF STILLS FOUND IN BELTRAMI COUNTY

Bemidji, Minn., Aug. 27.—(UP)—The largest and smallest stills confiscated in Beltrami county were in the possession of officers today following raids late yesterday in the vicinity of Blackduck.

One federal and a number of county officers made the raids. In addition, warrants in abatement proceedings seeking to padlock five soft drink parlors were served on the owners of the places. Hearing on the padlock proceedings was set for September 13.

FADS OF THE FAMOUS

ARISTIDE BRIAND

Aristide Briand, French minister of foreign affairs, is a perpetual cigarette smoker and a lover of country amusements. He always smokes the cheapest brand of French cigarettes.

Briand owns a big estate in Normandy, where he spends every weekend. During the fishing season he never misses an opportunity to escape from his government duties and the report is current that between bites he prepares his public speeches, which he never writes, contenting himself with a few scribled notes or signs decipherable only by himself. Briand dislikes to change clothes, his biggest punishment is when for official luncheons or banquets, he has to dress up. He is really happy only when he has no such worries and can walk in his farmyard with a pair of wooden shoes.

CHARGE FATHER WITH KIDNAPING OWN DAUGHTER

Owatonna, Minn., Aug. 27.—(UP)—Kidnaping charges have been made against John Lang, of Minneapolis, who is in jail here today accused of having abducted his daughter, Bernice, aged 9 years, a ward of the state board of control in the state school for dependent children here.

Lang was arrested yesterday at Buffalo Lake, Minn., and brought here after having been sought since his daughter disappeared from the state school on May 16.

The daughter has been returned to the school.

Fern's Good Qualities

"For pure leaves," said Thoreau, "did nature make the fern." No doubt these delicate pieces of "nature's lace work" are prized principally for their beauty and graceful foliage, yet the plant has played an important role on the stage of economic progress throughout the past, and has also long been valued for its medicinal properties.

Origin of Derisive Term

Dunce is a word introduced by the disciples of Thomas Aquinas in ridicule of the disciples of John Duns Scotus, who, although a man of subtle intellect, was held by the more ignorant or prejudiced at the time of the reformation to be a man of invincible stupidity.

Not Till Then

The average man doesn't worry particularly about his bad habits until his children acquire them.—Collier's Magazine.

STOCKS GIVE GOOD ACCOUNT OF THEMSELVES

New York, Aug. 27.—(UP)—Wall street appeared resigned to the view that the market must adjust itself to somewhat firmer money rates with the approach of fall business expansion and stocks gave a good account of themselves in the face of a five per cent call rate throughout the session. Moreover, sentiment regarding the money situation was strengthened by the constructive showing of the local federal reserve bank's weekly statement.

It was found difficult therefore to create any real concern over the possibilities of any marked credit stringency at this center and bearish interests who had been trying to force liquidation of stocks on that basis were forced to cover their short contracts in a competitive market. As a result the list maintained a fairly confident tone all day. New highs were reported on the rallies by Steel, General Motors and other industrials.

"YES SIR, THIS MEDICINE, KARNAK, IS REMARKABLE"

"Why, If A Man Had Told Me 'Til He was Black In The Face That It Would Relieve My Troubles Like It Has, I Couldn't Have Believed It," Says Wersal.

"You can just tell the world for me that they don't even begin to claim enough for this Karnak—why, if a man had stood up and told me until he was black in the face that Karnak would end all my troubles like it has, I couldn't have believed it—I tell you this medicine is remarkable."

That's the way Leo Wersal, of 307 6th Ave., N. E. Minneapolis, talks about the great health builder that has put him in such splendid condition.

"I want to tell you I went through some suffering the past five years," says Mr. Wersal. "My appetite was gone, I had to force myself to eat, and every bite of food caused me so much agony I just dreaded to see meal time come. My stomach would just cramp like a vise, I'd bloat up with gas, and just suffered misery.

"My liver was sluggish, I had to be always taking laxatives for constipation, and my nerves wouldn't let me get any restful sleep. I had dizzy headaches and was so weak and sluggish it was all I could do to pull through a day's work.

"Well, sir, I don't know how it did it, but two bottles of Karnak has just made a clean sweep of my troubles. They just seemed to leave me overnight. I never had a better appetite, can eat anything, and my stomach is as good as new. I've already gained seven pounds, sleep like a top at night, and feel fine and fit all the time. Believe me, Karnak is a world beater."

Karnak is sold in Brainerd by all good drug stores, and by leading druggists in every town. —Advt.
